2020 Awards Gala Sponsorship Prospectus

• This year’s event will be held on January 11, 2020 at Felina in Ridgewood, New Jersey, inside a spectacular, brand new event space in a restored banking hall from 1930, with food catered from acclaimed four-star chef Anthony Bucco
• Black tie optional affair celebrates the distinguished service of our past year’s presidents and their boards of trustees at our gala event.
• Presentation of our Service Awards, which highlight the best of our organizations members. These awards include: Distinguished Service Award, Architect of the Year, as well as many others.
• Attendance of approximately 200 attendees, many of whom are current or past leaders of our two organizations.

Why Sponsor?

Visibility

We know that our organizations, located in one of the most densely populated regions in the country, represent a perfect opportunity to reach decision making leaders in the construction industry. Our publications reach over 2,000 chapter members, and our websites have more than 50,000 unique visitors annually. Your business can’t afford to miss this unique opportunity. Recognition varies by sponsorship level, but always includes recognition at the event on electronic & printed materials.

Relationship-building

We consider our sponsors as partners in the effort to create a strong, viable architecture/engineering/construction community. Through your sponsorship, your company gains access to our leaders and members which can help develop the key relationships needed to enhance and maintain your business. Make sure you are not left behind! Each level includes recognition at the event on electronic & printed materials, and recognition from podium on the night of the gala. Certain levels also include Allied Membership in our organization.

We’ve created numerous sponsorship levels to meet your budget and marketing goals. We invite you to look through the entire sponsorship prospectus to learn more about our gala event.

Background

The American Institute of Architects is the voice of the architecture profession. AIA is dedicated to serving its members, advancing their value and improving the quality of the built environment. It is the largest and most influential professional association for architects, interns and those directly involved in the practice of architecture. For over 100 years AIA New Jersey has been serving New Jersey architects and the public. Its mission is to “serve the public’s needs and build awareness of architects and the profession through education and advocacy.” In 1896, the Society of New Jersey Architects was formed. A few years later in 1900, this society was disbanded when a chapter was granted to New Jersey by The American Institute of Architects (AIA). The New Jersey Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and The New Jersey Society of Architects conducted business side by side for many years. The society and chapter merged in July 1965, and the name was officially changed to the New Jersey Society of Architects of the American Institute of Architects. Today AIA New Jersey continues to be a state chapter and region of the national AIA. In 2000, the AIA–NJ chapter celebrated its 100th anniversary. The chapter is divided into six local sections that help connect AIA with the nearly 2,000 individual architects and are involved in the communities in a number of ways. The sections are Architects League of Northern New Jersey, Central, Jersey Shore, Newark & Suburban, South Jersey and West Jersey.
